Dear board of massage therapy :

This letter is to explain the arrests, fines, and dispositions.

1. Arrest date was 8/21/2004 by New York Police Department at Queens, the Charge was Unauthorized Practice of Profession. At that time I was worked at a foot massage spa, as a foot massage worker, When police inspectors come to check license, I can't produce a proper license (foot massage license), so police give me and other 3 workers a citation, and told us go to Queens criminal court to pay a fine. Then at the court, the Judge gave a sentence as doing 2 days community service at NYC Parks to sweep and cleaning the streets.

2. Arrest date 4/20/2004 by NYC Police Department at Queens, the charge was prostitution. It was a mistake or police inspector on purpose to wrote a charge on court paper as prostitution instead of Unauthorized Practice of Profession. Because the police gave citation to me and other 4 workers, all writing down was Unauthorized Practice of Profession on citations. And told us go Queens criminal court To pay a fine. So I went to the court on 12/15/2004, and the Judge give a Sentence as a 5 day community service at NYC Parks

I don't know why the criminal record states the charge was prostitution instead of Unauthorized practice of profession, that was a mistake, BECAUSE if charge was prostitution, the Judge will not just give 5 days community service. That sentence only properly fit to who has been charge with Unauthorized Practice of Profession.

3. Answer # 3 question Receipts for all fines or penalties showing have been paid :

I has been sentenced 2 days community service and 5 days community service, Both were served at NYC Parks to sweep and cleaning streets floor around parks, I supervised and assessed the works by park supervisors, when finish assessed Works, I could go home that day. I did finish both 2 days and 5 days community service. And there was no receipts for fines or penalties showing have been paid, due to The facts of the sentences ware community service.

4. Answer the 4th question : Dispositions from court(s) : I did has one disposition from court to show you how I am successfully overcome and eliminated my bad background impressions. On 2011 I filed an application for adjustment of status to be U. S. Permanent Resident at United States Immigration Office, US Department of Justice. But the application has been denied, because I had the criminal records show up at Immigration Office, that records are the same as you has it now.

Then I appeared the decision to US Immigration Court at Las Vegas, Nevada on January 2012. Then after defendant's lawyer and Immigration prosecutor debated, and called in witnesses to testify in front of the Judge for hours. Then next Day, the Judge made a decision in favor of defendant (~~case~~ See the copy of decision) and ordered that the defendant's application for adjustment of status be GRANTED.

Judge understands my situation and the ture facts, givemer a second chance to live, since that I never violate any government laws, rules and regulations. So I think I am deserve to have a license, and wish the Broad to grant me the licence

CHARGE: Section 237(a)(1)(B) of the Immigration and Nationality Act ("the Act") -
Non-immigrant-remained longer than permitted.

APPLICATION: Adjustment of status

ON BEHALF OF THE RESPONDENT:

Xiaosheng Huang, Esq.

ON BEHALF OF THE DHS:

Wayne Price, Assistant Chief Counsel

DECISION AND ORDERS OF THE IMMIGRATION JUDGE

I. Procedural History

The respondent is a 46-year-old married female who is a native and citizen of the People's Republic of China ("PRC"). She was admitted to the United States at New York, New York on or about July 23, 2000, as a non-immigrant B-1 visitor for business, with permission to remain for 90 days. The respondent did not depart the United States.

The record reflects that the respondent married a United States citizen on March 31, 2008. Her spouse filed a Form I-130 on her behalf, and the petition was approved on May 28, 2009. The respondent subsequently filed a Form I-485, application for adjustment of status, with the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services ("USCIS"). The USCIS denied the respondent's application, and referred her case to the Immigration Court, by means of a Notice to Appear dated August 31, 2010. See Exhibit 1.

The respondent has conceded that she is subject to removal as a nonimmigrant overstay. However, she sought to renew her application for adjustment in Court, along with an application for a section 212(h) waiver. See Exhibit 2. A hearing on the merits of these applications was conducted on July 10, 2012. The respondent was the primary witness in support of the application. Her United States citizen spouse also appeared to testify on her behalf, as well as her lawful permanent resident sister.

II. Law and Analysis

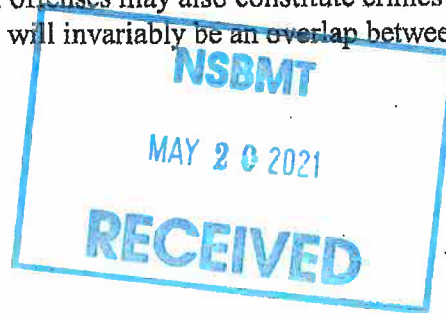

As noted above, the respondent does have an approved, immediate relative visa petition, which makes her eligible for adjustment of status in accordance with section 245(a)(3) of the Act. However, as an applicant for adjustment of status, the respondent has the burden of proving that she is "admissible to the United States for permanent residence." See section 245(a)(2) of the Act. Because the respondent was convicted of several offenses relating to prostitution in New York in 2004, she submitted a section 212(h) waiver, in order to overcome her apparent inadmissibility under section 212(a)(2)(D) of the Act.

The respondent was convicted, on August 22, 2004, in the Criminal Court of the City of New York, County of New York, of loitering for the purpose of engaging in a prostitution offense, in violation of section 240.37 of the New York Penal Law. The respondent's certificate of disposition reflects that she entered a guilty plea to the charge, and that she was given a conditional discharge of 1 year, plus 2 days of community service. The respondent was also convicted, on December 15, 2004, in the Criminal Court of the City of New York, County of Queens, of prostitution in violation of section 230 of the New York Penal Law.¹ The respondent's certificate of disposition reflects that she entered a guilty plea to the charge, and that she was given a conditional discharge of 1 year, plus 5 days of community service. Finally, the respondent was convicted, on July 12, 2005, in the Criminal Court of the City of New York, County of Queens, of disorderly conduct in violation of section 240.20 of the New York Penal Law. The respondent's certificate of disposition reflects that she entered a guilty plea to the charge, and that she was given a conditional discharge of 1 year.

Because the respondent pled guilty to two charges specifically relating to prostitution, the Court concludes that she is inadmissible under section 212(a)(2)(D)(i) of the Act. See Matter of Gonzalez-Zoquiapan, 24 I&N Dec. 549, 553 (BIA 2008); see also Kepelino v. Gonzales, 454 F.3d 1057, 1061 (9th Cir. 2006). Pursuant to section 212(h)(1)(A)(i) of the Act, however, the respondent can establish eligibility for this waiver if she is "only" inadmissible as a result of the offenses relating to prostitution.² Accordingly, the Court need not address the issue of whether ¹This statute provides: "A person is guilty of prostitution when such person engages or agrees or offers to engage in sexual conduct with another person in return for a fee."

²The Court notes that the respondent arguably is also inadmissible under section 212(a)(2)(A)(i)(I) of the Act, because the prostitution offenses may also constitute crimes involving moral turpitude (CIMTs). However, there will invariably be an overlap between the the denial of her application for adjustment of status would cause "extreme hardship" to her United States citizen spouse, because the respondent has demonstrated eligibility under the first prong of the 212(h) waiver. The Court is also satisfied that the respondent has established rehabilitation, and that her admission to the United States would not be contrary to the safety or security of this country. See sections 212(h)(1)(A)(ii) and (iii) of the Act.

Because the respondent has shown statutory eligibility for relief under sections 245(a) and 212(h) of the Act, the remaining issue is whether she warrants relief in the exercise of discretion. In Matter of Arai, 13 I&N Dec. 494, 496 (BIA 1970), the Board stated that an adjustment of status applicant with adverse factors in his or her record may have to demonstrate "unusual or even outstanding equities" to warrant this discretionary relief. The respondent here was convicted of the above-mentioned misdemeanor offenses in 2004 and 2005. There is no indication in the record that she has subsequently engaged in any criminal activity. The Court therefore considers the respondent's evidence of rehabilitation as a positive factor in her application. The respondent has now lived in the United States for 12 years, and has family ties to this country consisting of a United States citizen spouse, lawful permanent resident sister, and lawful permanent resident daughter who recently immigrated to the United States based upon the respondent's husband's petition. Accordingly, the Court will conclude that the respondent's equities offset her adverse factors, and the application for adjustment of status will be approved in the exercise of discretion.

Based on the foregoing, the Court will enter the following orders:

ORDERS

IT IS ORDERED that the respondent's application for adjustment of status be GRANTED.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the instant removal proceedings be terminated.

DATE: July 11, 2012

Jeffrey L. Romig
Immigration Judge

grounds of inadmissibility specified at sections 212(a)(2)(D)(i)(relating to prostitution) and 212(a)(2)(A)(i)(I)(relating to CIMTs) of the Act. To give full effect to the statutory language in 212(h)(1)(A)(i) of the Act, the Court interprets the requirement that the respondent "only" be inadmissible under subparagraph (D)(i) to mean that the overlap between the two grounds of inadmissibility does not preclude the respondent, or any other applicant with a prostitution conviction, from receiving the waiver.

COMPLIANCE REPORT

RE: #1 Foot Reflexology
Yuqin Geng, Manger
4825 W. Flamingo Rd., Ste. 130
Las Vegas, NV 89103

BY: Vicki-Lynne Kitzman
Compliance Inspector – Las Vegas
NV State Board of Massage Therapy

On Tuesday, July 26, 2021 I entered the business of #1 Foot Reflexology to conduct a second follow-up inspection. The manager, Yuqin Geng was behind the reception desk. I identified myself and stated I was there for the second follow-up inspection. There was one licensed employee identified as Yuan Ren NVMR.0110 also in the establishment.

I was conducting this second follow-up sanitation inspection because I had visited this establishment on April 26, 2021 and it was closed. I returned on April 29th and conducted the first sanitation inspection which was non-compliant. I returned on May 18, 2021 to conduct the followup inspection which resulted in non-compliance. I returned to the establishment on July 26, 2021 for the second follow-up inspection. Once again, this inspection was non-compliant. The floors continued to be dirty and have hair on them. The rooms with soft tables were dirty and while I was inspecting the two women were putting plastic shower curtains over the tables. The lighting in the room identified as room 3 still had inadequate minimum lighting and measured at 4.62-foot candle which is close to the required 5.0-foot candle. I had suggested many times to replace the bulb with a new higher watt bulb to fix that room and Yuqin Geng acknowledged she would correct it immediately. She did not.

The lotion bottles were still dirty, especially around the pump area. Yuqin Geng had indicated to me on my visits that she is only the manager. She is still pending board review for a massage application.

I issued an administrative citation for NAC 640C.200 (3) (c): tables (not clean), NAC 640C.210: Lubricants-Rm 2, NAC 640C.220: Structure-Rm 2 (this is for the dirty floor); NAC 640C230 (1)(d) Room (this is for the lighting). Each of these violations for a first offense is $200.00 each X 4 plus $150.00 administrative fee for a total of $950.00.

I explained again to Yuqin Geng the necessity for cleaning and disinfecting regularly and often, especially with Covid-19 and the deviant virus in the State of Nevada getting higher.

Respectfully submitted,

Vicki-Lynne Kitzman, Compliance Inspector Las Vegas
