I was really happy to book a last minute opening for their 30 minute cold plunge while I was visiting the area. The space is extremely inviting and cozy, but the employees do not pass the vibe check.

The session wasn't explained to me, but I was able to figure it out and I enjoyed the experience. The tea sauna is interesting (smells great) and the cold plunge really helped with some pain I was having. 30 minutes was more than enough IMO.

After any session, you are invited to stay in their lounge area (for those who booked services only), but it is fairly small and only accommodates 5-6 people max. I enjoyed tea and a few snacks after my session and then went home.

Overall I would recommend and would come back. Just wish they provided was more guidance/explanation for the session and afterwards.

I cannot recommend Kamalini more. My boyfriend and I both go to her and she has been incredibly helpful.

Not only is she extremely knowledgeable, but she also truly cares. She actually listens to your concerns and does not rush you out the door.

I wish more medical providers could be like her! If you're thinking about using her services, just do it already!! You won't regret it.

10/10 for Desiree! She did such an amazing job on my hair which had not been dyed in over a year!! She spent a good amount of time trying to understand exactly what I wanted and definitely took her time foiling my hair. I am so impressed by her ability to listen and make what I wanted reality. She also recommended a few products for my hair concerns which I really appreciated. Bonus, she has coffee and all the drinks you could want! I loved the vibe of her little studio too.

Ate here during a trip to Calistoga. We did not have high expectations, but were still disappointed.

The good: We were able to call same day and get a reservation relatively easy. Prices are very fair for the area. Definitely in-line with sushi I've had elsewhere. We ordered tempura which was okay. Not very flavorful or particularly tasty. The portion was also pretty small. My partner ordered the bento box dinner special and enjoyed most of it. I tried the salad and the dressing was tasty.

The bad: Although the prices were fair, the quality of fish was not good. I ordered the shrimpgazm and could not eat it. The tuna in the roll was definitely not fresh because it was brown in color. Definitely not the red tuna the owner is alluding to in her response to this review. Regardless if it was cooked or not, it was disgusting. Because of the quality I decided not to order any additional rolls because I was concerned about getting sick. My partner mentioned the California roll was not good either, and he didn't eat it. The service was also not the best, but it also wasn't the worst.

Overall, I would caution anyone visiting this restaurant about ordering sushi rolls. I rarely give negative reviews, but this place is not good. However, their menu is very extensive and it seems as if other options may be better. I could have just ordered the wrong thing, but I won't be back.

Let me start by saying I will never go here again lol. The service was extremely terrible and the food was mediocre, at best.

We ordered pimento cheese, fish & chips, fried oysters, and some yummy white wine. Pimento cheese was good to start. Then, instead of fried oysters we were delivered a shrimp po-boy. We were confused at first, but then a server came to the table and told us he made a mistake. He asked if we wanted to keep the po-boy and we said no.. we ordered fried oysters. He told us to keep it (on the house) and we were delivered our oysters. Oysters were disgusting so we sent them back.

Eventually we receive our check and they tried to charge us for the po-boy we didn't order. We had 4 different servers throughout our visit so they obviously weren't on the same page. Instead of just taking the po-boy off our receipt they argued with us and acted like we were lying? Extremely uncomfortable. I was not going to pay $20 for something I didn't order or eat.

In the end, they took it off the check. The server who gave us the check (shout out to Dane) was so rude it was hilarious.. after he didn't visit our table all night. We couldn't even get a refill on our water. Then, when we left, another server sarcastically commented to me "that looked fun" lol.

So if you're in the mood for bad service and mediocre food come on down. This place is very cute, but definitely lacking in so many areas.

My meal here was very disappointing..

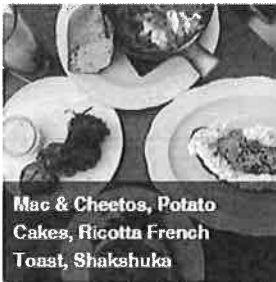

We started with drinks - michelada and blood Mary. Both were good, but nothing special. For food we ordered potato cakes, Mac & Cheetos, ricotta French toast, and Shakshuka.

The good: potato cakes and Shakshuka were good. Shakshuka was very flavorful and the portion was a good size. Be aware you will likely need to order extra bread for $4 a pop.

The bad: Mac & Cheetos was literally flavorless. The Cheetos were stale, and the pasta itself was not cheesy or creamy. Ricotta French toast was bizarre. This should not be called "French toast". It is a soft baguette with ricotta and jam. It wasn't gross, but was very bland and soft so the texture was a bit weird.

My largest complaint was the service. Our waitress was attentive and friendly, but she offered us things like they were included when they were in fact extra charges. For example, she asked if we wanted jalapeños on our Mac & Cheetos and when we got the check we were charged $2 for 3 jalapeños. So, we were a bit surprised at all the extra charges we had incurred that she didn't mention.

I don't mind paying a premium for good food, but the Attic was not it for me. Overall, bland food and predatory charging. Will not be back.

Reviewing based on multiple visits - pre & post COVID. First off, the food here is ridiculously spicy... like inedible. I love spicy food and I brought a friend who also loves spice and we both struggled to enjoy our food bc it was just too spicy!! So, if you're sensitive to spicy avoid this place. Next, the service here post-COVID is bad. If you look at the reviews from the last month many of them mention this/are bad. On my last visit, I had a weird experience. We ordered tofu larb (which I've order pre and during Covid as takeout). The dish we received looked different/not like larb and resembled meat. When we tried to clarify if it was the right dish, the staff got upset and argued with us. Super uncomfortable experience. I've had good service prior to COVID so maybe this was a one off, but I unfortunately won't be back bc the food is too spicy every time.

Picked to stop by this place on a whim because we were having trouble with parking in DT and needed a quick bite. Overall, ehhhh. Coffee was super disappointing. Told the cashier I didn't like my coffee and asked if I could get something else and he straight up said no, that's what I ordered and I can buy something else. For $5 I should at least enjoy my coffee. Portions are small; def get what you pay for. Pass on this place

Please do not seek care with Dr. Leaphart.

Dr. Leaphart is by far the worst provider I've ever had. She is dismissive and lacks empathy. Her behavior is just short of malpractice. I would NEVER trust her with my health.

I waited 1 hr after my scheduled appointment to be seen, during which I could hear every word of the exams in the rooms next to me. Before I was seen, I heard Dr Leaphart walk into another patient's room looking for me (she said my name). When she realized her mistake, I heard her yell to the nurse "you made me look so dumb" before entering my room. So unprofessional.

Then when I told Dr. Leaphart I was in pain she literally rolled her eyes. I was shocked. It's concerning that physicians like Dr. Leaphart exist. She should be ashamed.

The negative reviews on Yelp are spot on and I desperately wish I saw them before I went to AllCare. I encourage prospective patients to read them before scheduling.

I rarely write negative reviews, but women should not have to endure this type of treatment when seeking care. I left this office in tears with no treatment options or recommendations. I urge everyone to look elsewhere

Honestly this place was terrible.

Aesthetically this place is beautiful! Tables are in the sand and it is definitely a whole vibe, but other than looks, this place is not worth it.

We went for Sunday brunch which is a flat fee not including drinks. In total we spent about $250. Food selection is lacking and the made to order stations are impossible.

Even tho the place was pretty empty (Easter) it took at least 30 minutes to get anything from the made to order station.

Service was terrible and the hostess at the front was rude. We were told we could leave and come back anytime before 4 with our wristbands. We didn't plan on it, but when we did try to stop by we were told we could not come in.

Coming here was my biggest regret on my vacation. Waste of money for bad service and even worse food.
